

Save time with intuitive design

Always ready for use with built-in auto calibration system

Export data to a USB stick in a very short time

Touch screen with Windows®-based user interface and on-screen video tutorials

Fits various places

Modular and upgradable design – from one to six low-drift, rapid-response sensors

Compact and portable monitor with integrated one-point calibration system and battery

Connects to PCs for downloading and storing data or to a standard USB printer

Automatically generated reports